

STARS IN THEIR EYES: Pupils take a trip through outer space.
Contributed picture

Lesson's out of this world

PUPILS at Wellington Junior School were reaching for the stars this week as they took a trip through outer space.

Local astronomer and science teacher Simon Ould brought in his inflatable Space Odyssey planetarium to give Year Five pupils an insight into the solar system.

The children enjoyed a warp speed ride through the planets in a state-of-the-art recreation of the sky at night.

Pupils were amazed by the dome-shaped planetarium and class teacher Lee Lawrence was equally impressed.

He said: "It was a superb extension of our science topic on the earth and space."